- FRIENDLY ADVICE: I expect you to read your textbook – which might be challenging at times – but you will get more out of the course if you do. You might have to read a section (or a paragraph, or a sentence) several times over before you understand it. At the very least read the examples! Please don't fall behind, as it will get harder and harder to catch up. Most importantly, please don't be afraid to ask questions! If you don't understand something, chances are that you're not the only one. Either speak up in class, come to my office hours, or get help in the UMRC!
